Renga Workshop with Colin Will

Sunday 29 March 2009
2pm

Brander Library, Huntly
Admission £5 (£3 concession)
Hosted by Huntly Writers—all welcome

Renga is an ancient Japanese poetic form that is unique in being written collectively by a group. Each member of the group contributes verses and discusses the poem as it grows link by link.

No experience of writing in this form is necessary—the poem is itself an absorbing and enjoyable learning process for all participants.
